TWO

NEGRO ASSAILANT SURRENDERS; IS NOW IN THE JAIL

Will Hatchett, colored, last night walked calmly into police headquarters and surrendered himself to the authorities after knocking Will Petty, another colored man, in the head with a piece of iron. Petty was seriously injured. The assault took place on the Masonic building where the negroes were Petty was taken to Providence hospital for treatment and was in a serious condition last night. Petty was thought to be in a bad way. Hatchett was held in jail pending trial, which will not be until Petty recovers sufficiently to attend the hearing.

Hatchett had very little to say of the affair and the details of the assault could not be ascertained. Practically all that could be learned was simply that Hatchett and Petty disagreed over a matter while at work on the Masonic building and Hatchett smote Petty on the head with a piece of iron. The trouble occurred yesterday morning.

FROM GIRLHOOD TO WOMANHOOD

Woman Relied Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Emporia, Kansas.—"I began using Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines years ago when I was a girl. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound by friends and it restored me to normal health. I often have occasion to recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have tried it for their own. You may use it as a testimonial."—EVA ALLEN, 115 Union St., Emporia, Kansas.

WIDOW TO BUILD MODEL TOWN

MRS. MARY M EMERY WHO WILL BUILD AN IDEAL RESIDENTIAL SUBURB AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, May 23.—A model village costing $2,000,000 will be built on the outskirts of Cincinnati by Mrs. Mary M. Emery, wealthy widow, conceived the plan. She has bought a 365-acre tract along the Miami river, named it "Mariemont" and promises by 1923 a suburb modeled after English garden villages. "It will be an antidote for the growing disadvantages of city living, without the inconveniences of the country," says Mrs. Emery.

The town will not be a workingmen's colony, but a community providing good homes at moderate prices for families in moderate circumstances. It is not charity, for those who invest in stock will earn six and seven per cent, and all profits above that will go into community betterments.

Grading and building of sewers will be completed, and Mrs. Emery's $2,000,000 investment before homes are built.

There will be 1,000 homes, built in many varieties of designs. Lots will be 40, 50, 60 and 80 feet wide and 120 feet deep. Houses will be rented as well as sold.

Prices will range from $3,500 to $6,000. Homes can be bought with an initial payment of $100, the balance being loaned on a building association plan at interest as low as four per cent.

Houses will be steam-heated and lighted from central power plants. Cheap rates are predicted.

Cutting streets and parkways will take the place of dead rectangular blocks. There will be a town center, faced by a community theater, the town hall, the village green and retail shops.

Here also will be public markets, postoffice, library, hotel, fire station, church, bank, a community building and apartment houses.

At least three churches are planned, many park plots, a school, athletic field, and even gasoline filling stations.

Increase in the value of property. Mrs. Emery plans, will work to the benefit of tenants as well as home owners by reductions in rents. No speculation in real estate will be permitted and lot owners will be obligated to build within a specified time.

Mrs. Emery began buying options on the property seven years ago, and recently disclosed her model village plans.

She is the owner of the vast Emery estate, which operates many apartment houses in Cincinnati. She has a summer home at Newport, R. I., and is well known here for her many public benefactions.

After riding to town with George Graveley, a colored farm hand, E. R. Morrison, an ex-revenue agent, discovered that he had been a passenger on a light laden machine. He made the discovery here from Sandy River, his home, unaware of the presence of the whisky Graveley was believed to have offered to bring Mr. Morrison here to throw off suspicion.

The two men made the journey here and Morrison left the machine at the corner of Craghead and Main streets and told the negro he would meet him at a special set house.

Morrison arrived at the warehouse and sought Graveley. He learned that the negro had been captured by police officers with about five quarts of corn whisky. It was understood that the negro had disposed of most of it to some of his customers, having been seen to deliver a package to one house. The arrest was made by Detective J. N. Lewis, prohibition inspector W. T. Sheen, and Patrolman Edward Taylor and Bates. The negro was captured about 10:30 o'clock.

Morrison stated yesterday that he took particular notice of the negro's unusually kind invitation but did not suspect that he was going to violate the law. After Graveley's arrest, it was then believed that the negro thought that if he could induce Mr. Morrison to ride with him, no officer would suspect him. Yesterday's charge was Graveley's second lodged against the negro.

A large number of Mrs. Wm. Paylor's friends met at her home on Paxton Street Saturday afternoon and gave her a surprise party, the occasion being her birthday. Many who were not able to present sent cards, greetings and all kind of useful gifts. Mrs. Paylor has been shut in for a number of years and has many friends. The regular monthly meeting of the D. A. R. was postponed owing to her absence from the city. She has now returned and will present an interesting report from the recent Congress held in Washington.

S. F. Pace who has been quite ill at his home for several days is better.

A quick trip into the Mountain Valley section was made on the return to Danville. A Buick roadster belonging to Jim Scott, of Union street, this city, and driven by the owner and Region Lunford, also of Union street, was picked up on the way, hauling ten gallons of liquor. The officers said they did not think the car in its condition would haul more than that amount, but for one reason or the other that was the cargo (with a bottle partially emptied conveniently at hand in the front pocket) for which the long trip had been made. Scott and Lunford took the seats just vacated, in the officers car and were brought to Danville and placed in jail to await the preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Burkhardt.

The car was connected and brought as far on its way as it would come under its own power, even with its lightened load, for the liquor was brought all the way in and locked in jail for safe keeping, along with the prisoners.

The net of the day's raids—four stills, with complete equipment on each, with a total of five men considered almost a record day's capture.

A false and even utterly untrue rumor of a wild while circulation in some native community to the effect that a patrol car had been captured and the driver killed, was refuted by the Danville police force.

Somehow this rumor arose, and has been disseminated with some considerable effect, as to suggest delinquency and propaganda in the mind of the person in persons who believed the false rumor. The regular monthly meeting of the D. A. R. was postponed owing to her absence from the city. She has now returned and will present an interesting report from the recent Congress held in Washington.

Whittlesey's "Go To Hell" A Myth

No Reply Made to Germans' Surrender Demand, Says "Lost Battalion's" Historian—Was Commander's Friend.

NEW YORK, May 22.—America's most cherished phrase of the World War—the "Go to Hell" message ascribed to the late Col. Charles W. Whittlesey—was a myth.

Are Your Days a Pleasure?

Perfect Health Will Make Them So. Lynchburg, Va.—I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a special tonic when I was all run-down, weak and nervous. I also had stomach trouble. I felt sick all over, did not have any life or energy—was all fagged out. I took the "Favorite Prescription" and the "Pleasant Pellets" along with it, and these medicines built me up very quickly and seemed to put new life in me—made me feel better in every way. They are both excellent medicines and worthy of all the praise one can give them.—Mrs. J. W. Sale, 363 Withers Street.

Obtain this "Prescription" of your drugstore, in tablets or liquid. Write Dr. Pierce for free medical advice, to invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y.—adv.

Nothing is so utterly needless as the suffering from aching, painful corns. It is as easy to peel off a corn as to skin a banana. Touch it with "Gets-It" and the corn is gone. For hard corns, soft corns, any corn—on callus, it pain stops instantly and the corn proceeds to loosen and soon can be lifted right off. Your money cheerfully refunded if it fails. But it never fails. Costs but a trifle. E. Lawrence & Co., Mfg., Chicago.

Help That Aching Back!

Is your back aching now? Are you tired, miserable, all run down, tortured with nagging backache, lameness and sudden, stabbing pains? If so, look to your kidneys. Overwork, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache and an ail worn out feeling is often the first warning. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy Danville folks recommend. Ask your neighbor.

Here's a Danville Case. J. W. Scarce, 210 E. Thomas St., says: "I suffered with rheumatic pains and was so bad I could hardly get around. I had severe pains, especially in my joints and I tried different kidney remedies, but all to no avail until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's entirely cured me and I have not had a return of the trouble."

Whittlesey when his command was surrounded by Germans in the Argonne—will have to be consigned to the limbo of the legendary.

Col. then Major—Whittlesey uttered no such phrase, but "treated the German Commandant's letter demanding his surrender with the slightest contempt," he wrote his intimate friend and fellow officer, Capt. L. Woodlief Miles in a "History of the Lost Battalion," soon to be published. He is confirmed by Capt. George G. McMurtry, who was present when the alleged "Go to Hell" message was sent.

What happened, according to Capt. Miles, was, when the demand for the surrender of the command had been delivered by an American soldier who had been captured by the Germans.

"He (the soldier) delivered the message to Capt. McMurtry, who handed it to Major Whittlesey. It was a letter dictated in English, neatly typewritten on a sheet of good quality of paper, and addressed to the Commanding Officer, 2d Battalion, 308th Infantry." The letter read:

"Americans, you are surrounded on all sides. Surrender in the name of humanity. You will be well treated."

"No answer, whatever," reads Capt. Miles history, "written or verbal was made to the German Commandant's letter," although he relates further on, "at noon, Oct. 3, Major Whittlesey and Capt. McMurtry knew that their forces were cut off from communication with the rear and that the Germans were both in front and behind of the objectives which our troops had been ordered to occupy."

Capt. McMurtry, who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, and to whom Col. Whittlesey bequeathed the German letter demanding surrender, was reached by telephone last night at the Hotel Brighton, Atlantic City.

"It is true," he asked, "that Col. Whittlesey sent no 'Go to Hell' message to the Germans?"

He sent them no messages whatsoever," he said. "Capt. Miles knows what he is writing about. He was the Colonel's closest friend."

The stuff of which Whittlesey's men was made is demonstrated by a hitherto unpublished incident of the famous "lost" private, had been shot in the stomach. Capt. McMurtry stopped to see how he was getting along.

"It pains like Hell, Captain," he said, "but I'll try to keep as quiet as I can."

McAdoo's Son Married Monday

NEW YORK, May 22.—William G. McAdoo, son of the former secretary, was married at the Municipal building today to Mrs. Mollie Tuckaberry Ferguson.

The bride who said she was born in England, was divorced last March from Arthur Ferguson of this city. Both gave their ages as 27.

REVIVAL BEGINS AT UNION HILL CHURCH

A large and enthusiastic congregation was present last night at the beginning of the revival services at the Union Hill Baptist church which will be in progress all this week. Rev. W. T. Hall, of East Radford, is conducting the revival and his sermon last night was a powerful one. There was one conversion at last night's meeting. The subject for this evening's sermon, which begins at 8 o'clock, will be "Conditions of Discipleship."

Rev. Hall has just closed a meeting at Clarendon, Va., where he aided Rev. C. P. Ryland in a splendid revival resulting in many conversions to the church. Rev. Hall is not regarded as a sensationalist, but a strong, logical preacher. He is not only a successful and popular pastor but has held many successful meetings in all parts of the state.

Several special services will be held during the meeting. Saturday night a service for young people will be held. The subject will be "Who Is Your Sweetheart?" On next Sunday afternoon a service for men only will be held, the subject to be announced later.

Real Robinson Crusoe Proves His Food Theory

Marooned on Island, Professor Lives on Buds and Gulls' Eggs—Lost Three Days.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., May 22.—Prof. L. H. Pennington, of the State College of Forestry, always told his students that whenever man goes he can find enough food to keep within him the warmth of life, bolstering up his theory with a text-book of his own entitled "The Nutritious Value of Plants."

Recently he was called upon to prove his theory. He did so for nearly three days he lived—unwillingly marooned—on a small island in Lake Champlain, subsisting on basswood buds and gulls' eggs. And he said he could have lived there indefinitely if a rescue party had not come to his aid.

Now the professor is back at his desk at Syracuse University, treating his Robinson Crusoe adventure as a mild joke on himself but proudly preferring his theory.

"I wasn't comfortable," he says, "I must admit that. But at the same time I existed. And if the searching Lewis, N. Y., to search for traces of white pine rust. Taking a small boat, he started his trip to a group of islands known as the Four Brothers, four miles out in the lake. Usually a State game protector is stationed on the island. This year, however, no warden had been sent out.

The professor pulled his boat up on the bank and started to explore. When he sought to return the boat was gone.

"I took stock of my resources," he says. "The food I hadn't brought with me provided for one meal. I knew that basswood buds are highly nutritious and gathered enough of them for a meal. Then I came on some gulls' eggs which are also wholesome. So I knew I would never need to starve."

"Of course, I knew my friends worry about my nonreturn. I rigged up a signal using my handkerchief as a flag. I also lighted a fire, but the smoke drifted inland instead of out, so that was useless."

A searching party was sent out when Pennington failed to return but only one boat was available and the shipper lost an ear just before he reached the island.

On the third day Dr. George S. Britton, the professor's companion, saw what he thought was a body of a man lying on the island, but he did not leave the country through powerful field glasses. The supposed body suddenly rose and did a brisk dance, waving its hands frantically.

When the searchers finally arrived the professor was calmly preparing his evening meal—a savory dish of dried eggs and a basswood bud "salad."

Girl As U. S. Visitor Fights Exclusion

NEW YORK, May 22.—Miss Emma Federici, a school teacher from Italy, long detained on Ellis Island, will gain distinction if she establishes in the United States courts a rule as to when an alien is exempt from the quota law enforcement.

Her father is an importer in Ascoli Piceno, Italy, well able to foot the bill if Miss Federici desires to carry her fight against deportation to the highest courts. Already the young woman has taken her appeal to the United States district court, and her deportation last Saturday was automatically stayed by a writ of habeas corpus issued by Judge Julian W. Mack.

The issue involves the precedent of international importance—the contention that the Dillingham act by its own terms exempts from the quota computation any alien who comes here with the intention of returning within six months. Argument was scheduled for last Saturday before Judge Mack, but a postponement was granted by the court to allow both sides to prepare a thorough showing. Miss Federici has engaged Adrian Ronnelly, a lawyer of Philadelphia, to conduct her fight.

The Dillingham act provides that visitors coming to this country for a reasonable time are exempt from the quota enforcement, and the immigration authorities have determined upon six months as "a reasonable time."

But the immigration authorities on Ellis Island hold that aliens must satisfy a board of special inquiry that the bona fide visitors, and that to do this they must show there is some compelling circumstance which makes their departure from their United States within six months imperative.

The two young men had escorted a girl from church Sunday night and were "rocked" by a number of boys who objected to youths from other sections visiting girls in their vicinity.

Co-Ops. To Build Reidsville Plant

REIDSVILLE, N. C., May 23.—The committee of nine named at the meeting of citizens here Wednesday morning to provide warehouse facilities for a receiving plant in Reidsville for the Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, met at the C. & A. room Thursday night and organized for work.

R. S. Montgomery was elected chairman; W. A. Trotter, secretary, and Eugene Irwin, treasurer.

The committee speedily got down to work and the results of its first meeting were: The organization of a stock company with an authorized capital of $100,000 to buy land and build and equip a receiving plant in Reidsville. The name of the company is the Reidsville Cooperative Warehouse Company. Shares of the par value of $50 each. The committee subscribed for $1,200 worth of stock on the spot in order to facilitate getting a charter.

The question of a suitable location was taken up, and a member—Obe was taken up, and a number of available lots in different sections of the town mentioned and discussed. A site committee composed of C. A. Stokes, W. A. Trotter and R. S. Montgomery was named to investigate the different locations and report their findings at a meeting to be held the next night.

Another meeting of the committee was held Friday night. The application for charter as prepared by Ira K. Humphreys was read and approved. The site committee had been in negotiation with lot owners and secured a number of options.

A committee representing the Rockingham Storage and Warehouse Company, owners of the old East Market street (the lot running through to North Scale street) was named to negotiate with the owners to reach all of these stockholders. So it was decided to defer final action on selection of a site until Friday night, May 26.

Roller Coaster Hurls 2 To Death

NEW YORK, May 22.—A girl and a man were killed and six injured, three probably fatally, when they were hurled from a roller coaster on the scenic railway at Star Light park, the Bronx, early today. The operator of the coaster applied his emergency brakes suddenly when the car reached the second and highest summit of the undulating wooden course and eight of the ten passengers were precipitated into the network of the understructure, several plunging 67 feet into a Bronx river marsh.

Neil Connolly, 19, guard of the car, was arrested, charged with homicide. He had been on the job two weeks. He said a man passenger in a forward seat stood up when the racing car was about to start down the steepest decline on the route. He had unbuckled his safety belt and Connolly, as he told the police, thought he was about to jump out. Connolly applied the emergency brakes without warning, and all but two of the passengers and the guard were catapulted out.

Several caught in the understructure and hung in midair until firemen rescued them.

Henry Spitz, 27, who died of a fractured skull soon after he was taken to Fordham hospital, was the man who stood up according to Connolly. Bella Fikings, 18, died in the hospital. Like Spitz, she plunged into the marsh beneath the structure, striking several crossbeams in falling. Edith Baker, 17, John Ferris and Dennis Monahan were the more severely injured.

HAMPDEN SIDNEY WINS SIX AND DROPS NINE

HAMPDEN SIDNEY, Va., May 22.—During the recently closed baseball season the Hampden-Sidney College won six games and lost five to college and university teams five of the ten scheduled games being cancelled because of rain. The games were dropped to the Newport News and Portsmouth nines of the Virginia league.

Only three college teams took the number of the Carnet and Gray terrors, the University of Richmond being the victor in three of the games in which the locals met defeat. Lynchburg College gave the locals a drubbing in the opening game of the year, while William and Mary beat the Tigers in the last game of the season.

With the conclusion of this mediocre season, Hampden-Sidney completes one of the most brilliant athletic years in the history of the school. The Tiger football team was one of the strongest in the State and had a clear claim to the college championship of both Virginia and North Carolina. The basketball team, while not merely so successful as the eleven, had a fair season, and defeated a number of strong teams, including Lynchburg College and the Lynchburg Elks.

The Gornet and Gray tennis team vanquished both Randolph-Macon and Amelia Courthouse, and in return were beaten by Virginia Polytechnic. Richmond with the University of Richmond, and in the return match at Hampden-Sidney the locals had taken the doubles match when rain broke up the proceedings.

In the only track meet of the year, this being the first year that Hampden-Sidney has recognized track as a major sport—the Tigers defeated Randolph-Macon by a large margin.

THE DANVILLE TEAM

The following bit of encomium is from the Greensboro News:

"The Danville club is now showing the case of the Piedmont circuit. Tom Abbott has his bunch resting on the top rung of the ladder and the premier catcher, who is experiencing his first year as manager, is expected to come through good. He has a bunch of stars on his club, none of whom know the word 'quit.' And as the fighting spirit that has won many of the games for the Danville chaps."

Germany's Iron Man Revealed

he goes on the new crushing or wrecking opponents. He is a constructor. He takes sick businesses and cures them of what ails them. He takes well businesses and makes them sicker. He likes to make two mills produce where only one did before. That gives him a German and enriches both Germany and Stinnes.
Back in the nineties a weak blast furnace corporation in Luxembourg and another in Bochum, Germany, were united in one organization, which was just as weak. It lost money for its stockholders.
Then in 1901 Stinnes came into the field. He formed the German Luxembourg Mining and Smelting Corporation with a capital of only one million marks. He took over the weak combination just mentioned. In less than a year the new concern increased its capital to 25 million marks and in 1910 to 60 million marks.
Under Stinnes' leadership it bought some stock in big coal mining companies in the Saar and Moselle valleys and thus assured a cheap coal supply. Then it gobbled up a Dortmund company and rocketed its capital to 100 million marks.
Stinnes was showing himself the German Napoleon of industrial finance. But it was sound finance. It was based upon actual possessions, not water in a lake. American trusts, such as the Pullman, the Standard Oil, the Bethlehem and the Carnegie, had done this. Stinnes was doing it. He had 100,000 busy workmen, all told a very real story of big business.
The concern controlled five million tons of coal and 1,500,000 tons of coke per annum, to say nothing of iron and steel. It was a power. It made not only pig iron, cast iron and steel but finished products like freight cars. In other mills it made machinery.
It seemed Stinnes was at the zenith of his career. But he had not yet been really tested. The war came and with it the bitter aftermath of crushing defeat for Germany. Albert Ballin, creator of the Hamburg-American Steamship Lines, seeing his great business destroyed, didn't have the heart to go on. It was said he killed himself. But Stinnes was of tougher metal. Seeing his greatest work cut into pieces by the allied victory, he wrestled greater achievement out of disaster.
War Scourged Him
No Germany business has harder hit than his. German Luxembourg. When Lorraine went back to France and Luxembourg was freed from Germany influence, Stinnes' company lost 60 per cent of its raw material—iron ore and coal. For an ordinary business man that would have been a crushing blow.
But Stinnes isn't an ordinary man. He at once began buying up small companies which could give him a company some of the material it needed. But he was after bigger game. Another Ruhr valley family, the Kirdorfs, had founded an enormous business known as the Geisenknecht Mining Corporation. It was one of the biggest in Germany. It had over 55,000 workers. The war also hit this corporation hard. Stinnes brought about a combination of his German Luxembourg, the Geisenknecht, and the Bochumer Verein. He made himself its master. He christened it the Rhine-Elbe Union and it started out with a combined capital of 50 million marks, or just 1,000 times more than the amount with which he began his independent business career.

Controls Fifth of Ruhr
German Luxembourg brought into the combine 14 coal mines, 1,700 coke ovens, seven iron mines, five steel and iron works and four other big factories. Geisenknecht had 14 coal mines, nine iron and steel works and a number of other factories. The Bochumer Verein had four coal mines and two iron and steel works. No man in Germany was in a position like Stinnes. The coal he and his family own, and the coal he controls amounts to exactly one-fifth of the vast Ruhr production.
But he wasn't through with coal. With August Thyssen, another famous Rhine-Ruhr captain of industry, and the Dresden bank, he bought a controlling interest in the Altkuhm Mining Corporation which operates four big coal mines, has other seams yet untapped, and a number of factories. Then the far-seeing Stinnes became interested in the possibilities of lignite. This fuel has become especially precious for German industry since the loss of the Saar and Upper Silesian coal mines. Stinnes secured a block of stock in the Rhenish-Westphalian Corporation of Halle, which owns 34 lignite mines, 15 factories for the manufacture of good liquors, five brick factories, eleven electrical power stations and five factories for the extraction of mineral oil and paraffin. Lignite is especially valuable in this regard.

Invades Retail Business
Then Stinnes thought of another scheme. His own coal mines supplied coal to his own steel mills, but he looked around Germany and everywhere he saw consumers of coal. Their money might as well flow into his pockets.
So thought, so done. He controls the United Coal Dealers Corporation of Berlin. He has similar companies in Nuremberg, Koenigsberg, Flensburg, Hamburg, Bremen and other important towns where Stinnes' coal mines sold to big and little consumers. Foreign fields tempted him, too. Some of the finest iron ore in the world is found in Sweden. Therefore Stinnes bought some Swedish ore fields.
One of the greatest foreign companies to him by simply sitting still. In the old days of the Austro-Hungarian empire one of the greatest companies in the country was the Austrian Alpine Mining Corporation, which practically owned an inexhaustible supply of high grade iron ore in the Styrian Alps—a whole mountain range in fact. After the peace treaty the great Alpine company found itself in a poverty-stricken little Austria. Its former bases of coal supply were now situated in new and hostile states.
Into Austria
In the need of financial support, a great block of its stock went into the hands of an Italian syndicate of automobile and steel manufacturers. They saw in the plant an excellent chance to get for Italy the steel it so badly needed. But production failed. The Italians could give the company money and labor, but no coal and coke.
In their troubles they looked to Germany, and naturally to Stinnes.

The great Hugo was ready to oblige. He could shoot coal and coke right straight across Germany into the Styrian Alps and the great concern could work full speed ahead.
Only there is almost always an important only with Stinnes. He told the mine would like to sell them coal but he must be interested financially in the Alpine company. The Italians saw the point.
Result—Stinnes owns outright two-fifths of the company for which he paid a huge sum of 250 millions of marks.
Political Furor
This caused more political furor than anything Stinnes has ever done. At a time when the allies were demanding that Germany pay huge reparations, it was pointed out there must be lots of money in Germany when Stinnes could spend that much in one transaction. And inside Germany opponents of the government asked why Stinnes didn't pay more taxes. The fact is the money was used by a Swiss concern in which Stinnes is chief owner.
But the rude Socialists still laugh when you tell them a corporation in the little town of Zug could raise all that coin.

Ex-Kaiser's Book Ready To Publish

BERLIN, May 21.—A book written by former Emperor Wilhelm, dealing with the World War, is understood to have acquired for publication by an American group, under an option covering world rights. It is expected the arrangements under the option will be definitely closed within a short time.
The manuscript of the former Kaiser makes a good sized book of about 100,000 words. Those who have been instrumental in acquiring it say it is to appear in the identical form prepared by the ex-Emperor, without emendation or expurgation, the contents having been passed on by five American readers.
It is understood the ex-Kaiser deals with the period leading up to the war, marshaling the conditions throughout Europe in such a way as to constitute a defense of his course and an accusation that a series of circumstances outside of Germany were largely responsible for bringing on the conflict.

FOR NEW STYLES AND PRETTY ARMS

(Beauty Notes.)
Women are fast learning the value of the use of deodorant for removing hair or fuzz from face, neck or arms. A paste is made with some powdered deodorant and water and spread on the hairy surface. In 2 or 3 minutes it is rubbed off, the skin washed and every bit of hair has disappeared. No failure will result if you are careful to buy genuine deodorant and mix fresh as wanted.—adv.

Thinks Germs On Thermometers Caused Gov. Parkhurst's Death

BOSTON, May 21.—Did the placing of a clinical thermometer in the mouth of the late Gov. Frederick H. Parkhurst of Maine indirectly result in his death?
Mrs. Dorothy W. Parkhurst of Bangor, Me., has brought an action of contract against the Employer's Liability Assurance Corporation, Ltd., to compel it to pay her $7,000, which she claims is due her on an insurance policy taken out by her husband. The attorneys for Mrs. Parkhurst, Sherman L. Walpole and A. M. Beal, through the courts, have requested Dr. H. E. Thompson, bacteriologist of the Maine State Board of Health, to say what was revealed by the examination of a culture taken from the Parkhursts' throat shortly before he died.
The purpose of the question put to Dr. Thompson is to determine the presence of diphtheria germs in the governor's throat. That these germs were communicated through the use of a clinical thermometer, it is understood will be the contention of Mrs. Parkhurst's attorneys, and furthermore, they will argue that the circumstances constitute an accident, as defined in the policy of the Employer's Liability Assurance Corporation.
On Jan. 1, 1922 Gov. Parkhurst was examined at Bangor, Me., by Dr.

Dynamiters Cause Reign Of Terror

MOONSVILLE, W. Va., May 21.—Heavy squads of state police and sheriff's deputies have been stationed in the vicinity of non-union miners' homes in the Moonsville district, where a virtual reign of terror has reigned the last three nights.
The parties taken place in the morning of the home of Mrs. George Pugh marked the third attempt within 24 hours to dynamite dwellings occupied by non-union employed in the non-union operations.
Police have not yet succeeded in making an arrest, although blood hounds from the state police have been used in efforts to pick up a trail.
In all, six homes have been threatened by explosives, during the past two weeks, most of them occupied by employees of the Glendale Gas Coal Company, of Glendale.
Prohibition at all of mines in the Moonsville district is said to have been considerably reduced, owing to the number of employees being frightened away from their work.
The James River mine, near Brownwood, has been closed by loss of labor for miles of miles of the state.
A number of men, legs of the James River mine, charged with violation of the prohibition granted by the late Judge A. G. Johnston of United States district court for northern West Virginia, will be tried at Parkersburg, W. Va., on May 23.
Their cases were set for this date yesterday morning by Federal Judge W. E. Pritch.
The defendants are charged with disorder in attempts to obstruct the mine of the Parkersburg West Virginia Coal Company, at Beach Bottom, W. Va.
A band of union miners 250 strong this morning marked on a "striking" was occurred by state police at Moonsville. It is said that the men were prevented from entering the mine and that they were shot at.
Special H. T. Lane is now in charge of the situation but the mine has not yet resumed work.

Luck's Big Role In Balloon Races

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 22.—(By The Associated Press.) There probably is nothing in which luck plays so great a part as competitive aviation, for despite the rapid strides in recent years, navigating the air still is dependent on so many factors that almost any pilot in making his chance in a race will frankly admit that the result is about 75 per cent dependent on the whims of the gods of fortune.

This is particularly true in ballooning, where the navigator does not have the one control over his craft as an airplane pilot has and in the national balloon race which starts in Milwaukee May 30 two pilots who are selected with probably the toughest luck in aviation records will compete. They are J. S. McKibben and Bennett Von Hoffman, both of St. Louis, who they lost the international Gordon Bennett balloon race at Brussels last year just because the luck gods placed the other way at a critical moment. Luck put them in the impossible position of traveling faster than any other entry and yet losing the race through a combination of distance and not for speed. This is the way Mr. McKibben tells it.

"We left Brussels about 5:45 p. m. September 13, 1921, under very unfavorable conditions for a storm was blowing and were in the midst of a 30 mile-an-hour wind which carried us northwest and in two hours were over Zebruggue. The North Sea was crossed at an altitude of 4,500 feet, the English coast line being crossed about 20 miles north of the Thames."

Shortly we passed over London. By sunrise we were in northern Wales and the Irish coast was in sight. We dropped down very low and asked where we were and how far it was across the sea. The farmers told us it was 100 miles—much to our surprise—and we decided to tackle it, as our rate of speed at that time would carry us over in five hours—placing us in the neighborhood of Dublin.

"About 8:30 a. m. we crossed the town of Aberwith, but the wind gradually died down and at 11:30 a. m. we were over Bardsey Island. We decided to land on this island, but while maneuvering we caught sight of another balloon to the south of us. Naturally we abandoned all plans for landing and decided not to try to come down until the other bag did. We kept sailing along and at 4:30 p. m. we were only a mile from the Dublin shore—only a mile from sure victory in the world's greatest air race, for we had traveled that far.

"But there was no wind and we could not get into shore. We threw out all ballast, clothes, extras—everything, but still could not get over land. Slowly we were sinking, but it was into the sea and that was where we landed. A ship picked us up one mile from shore and this disqualified us."

"Imagine our disgust when we learned that the balloon we sighted when figuring on landing at Bardsey Island had landed there itself and had won the race by so doing! Had we landed on the island we would have won the winner! Had we had a mere puff of wind we would have reached Dublin and been an easy winner! We traveled farther than anyone, but landing in the ocean disqualified us."

"That was a break of luck over which we had no control, and that is why I say that luck is the biggest thing in a race of this kind."

Mr. McKibben has been in aviation since 1910. Von Hoffman is of a ballooning family, his brother, Albert, and his father being aeronauts. While a St. Louisan, he was born in Milwaukee. He had his first trip when only 19 years old, and has flown in many national and international races, although probably the youngest pilot in the world. He and McKibben have separate entries in the race this year.

DANVILLE HAS FIVE BATTERS IN 300 CLASS

Of the twelve batsmen in the Piedmont league in the exclusive "300 class" up to last Sunday, Danville contributes five. Pitchers Rodgers is the leading league, according to unofficial averages with 9 hits in 20 times up, for an average of .450. Pitcher L. Harris is fifth with 7 hits in 19 times up and an average of .369.

Next comes Holmes, who in 67 times at bat has counted 23 hits, an average of .343. Next is Worth with 333 on 15 bingles in 45 times up. Trexler in 69 times at bat has accumulated 21 hits and an average of .304.

Perhaps the most noteworthy development in hitting is that of Manager Abbott, who had boosted his batting to .254 in a few days, having 15 hits in 59 times up.

Holmes' 23 hits were good for 31 total bases, while Catcher Kearney of Raleigh with 20 hits in 53 times up has 33 total bases and is the slugger of the league. The Danville team is credited with two homers, a triple and five two-baggers. If Holmes' circuit swat of yesterday be included, his total base record will probably top Kearney's.

HEALTH OFFICER FLOGGED

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 22.—Dr. J. D. Dowling, health officer for Birmingham and Jefferson county, and special representative of the United States Public Health Service, was flogged from his home Wednesday night, taken into the county and flogged, it became known last night.

His abductors told him, Dr. Dowling reported that his methods were too "Kaiser-like," and warned him to leave the community within 30 days.

The physician was induced to leave his home and enter the automobile of his assailants, when they said they wished him to render first aid to an injured man. Immediately he had entered the automobile, a revolver was pressed against his forehead and he was dealt a blow on the head which had bare his skull, and he was blindfolded.

The automobile then sped to an isolated spot in the country. Dr. Dowling was taken out and forced to place his arms about a tree while a revolver was placed to his side and he was then lashed. During the automobile ride, he lost his shoes and after his abductors had whipped him and departed he made his way barefooted and bleeding to Tarant City, nine miles from the scene of the attack to the home of an acquaintance. He said he did not recognize any of his abductors, but stated that there were four or five men in the automobile.

POSTOFFICE IS ROBBED

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 22.—Thieves last night dynamited the postoffice safe at Garfield, Ga., sixty miles from here on the Georgia and Florida railway, and secured $200 in cash and $300 in stamped paper. There is no clue as to the rogues.

TWICE TARGET OF A SHOOTER VICTIM CANNOT IDENTIFY HIM

SUNBURY, Pa., May 22.—The city is aroused today by the sensational shooting of George C. Meiser, aged 37, at the street in the business district last night. A man of unknown identity, according to Meiser, stepped up to him, threw his one arm around his neck and fired three times. One bullet went in his mouth and came out under the right ear, the second went through a shoulder and the third plowed through his breast.

Meiser's wife was coming out of a nearby store just as the attempted murder occurred and seized the falling man in her arms. His assailant disappeared in the darkness. Meiser was rushed to the Mary M. Tucker hospital, where doctors said he would recover. Later he was taken to his home and his condition was good tonight, it was said.

The shooting happened at Eighth and Market streets, close to where Meiser was shot in the back of the neck about a year ago. When he recovered he declared he did not know who his assailant was and no arrests were made. Tonight Meiser made the same assertion, the police say, and Mrs. Meiser, according to Police Chief Smith, cannot identify the man. It was the second attempt on Meiser's life at almost the same spot. Chief Smith believes that it was the same man both times. Tonight Smith said he had a clue and would make an arrest before midnight.

BRASS TABLET CONSECrated

In Epiphany church on Sunday, May 21st, a brass tablet was consecrated to the memory of John Campbell Berkeley who served in France as a member of company F 304 engineers, 18th Division, A. E. F. Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, D. D., rector emeritus of the church, made a short address on the occasion in which he referred to the facts that Mr. Berkeley was the only one of over forty-five who entered the war from Epiphany who lost his life in the service, and outlined the bravery and courage that service in the engineer corps required. In placing the tablet for consecration, Mr. Hall said a most beautiful and tender tribute to this one of his boys.

The Rev. Malcolm S. Taylor, the rector, then consecrated the tablet in the following earnest words:

"O Lord our God, in whose hands are the issues of life and death, and from whom cometh our salvation, bless us, we pray Thee, as we consecrate this memorial tablet, which shall be to us a symbol of self-sacrifice for the sake of Thy kingdom."

"We remember before Thee all the men and women who, through all time, in war and in peace, have devoted their lives to the progress of righteousness, and especially now we remember those who in the great war as represented by Thy servant, John Campbell Berkeley, loved not their own lives unto death, but laid them down for the advancement of truth, liberty and justice."

"Sanctify, we beseech Thee, our allegiance to the causes for which this sacrifice was made and grant that this our Nation may become mercifully a righteous nation which keepeth the truth, so that at length it may enter through the gates of the Eternal City. And this we ask for the sake of Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen."

The wooden base upon which the tablet was a portion of the case in which the burial casket came from France.

MOB RULE IS DENOUNCED BY THE SOUTHERN BAPTISTS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 22.—(By The Associated Press.)—Mob rule was denounced at the closing session of the Southern Baptist convention here today both by speakers and in the adoption of the report of its commission on social service which declared that every person charged with crime is entitled to a fair trial and that "any other procedure is mob rule and if adopted generally will ultimately undermine and overthrow everything we hold dear."

"We cannot too strongly urge upon our pastors and churches the importance of not becoming allied with or giving approval and support to any movement or organization which violates or tends to violate these sacred and fundamental principles," continued the report. There was no specific reference to any organization either in the report or in debate.

The report requested of President Harding that the government cooperate in taking steps against Turkish atrocities in the near east, pointing out that Great Britain requested co-operation from other countries. Race, gambling, the modern dance, violation of the Sabbath and appropriation of public funds for sectarian institutions came in for expression of approval in the report, which also asked a strict censorship in each state, for motion pictures and voiced the hope that Will H. Hays will "exercise what is declared to be his great power for a thorough clean-up in the whole picture business."

William Jennings Bryan was invited to address the convention in Kansas City next year and Dr. E. Y. Mullins, president of the convention, was named to lead the delegation to the Stockholm Baptist conference in July 1923. The convention also instructed its committee on hospitals to report next year what is being done toward religious training of students in Baptist hospitals.

Other resolutions stated "we express our appreciation of full reports on the convention sent throughout the country by the general news agency and that the special thanks of the body be extended to The Associated Press."

These resolutions and one deprecating the hissing of a speaker at one of the sessions were adopted preceding the social service commission report. Debate of that was lengthy and during it the Rev. Dr. J. I. Taylor, Leaksville, N. C., a vice president of the convention delivered an address against "mob rule," in general and the recent burning of negroes and other speakers joined in speaking against lawless outbreaks without going into specific instances.

"There is no good in the motion picture," declared the Rev. W. K. Hunt, Somerset, Ky., who, with other messengers, sought to amend the report in order to "register disapproval port in order to deal with reforms," but A. J. Barton, Alexandria, La., chairman of the commission and others successfully resisted their efforts.

Delegates and visitors were leaving on all trains today and tonight, the departures starting even before final adjournment which came shortly after noon.

"Take It Back, You Forgot the Revenue Dressing!" By Morris

Fog Was Cause Of Catastrophe To Steamship Egypt

BREST, May 22.—(By The Associated Press)—The thickest fog in years around the Finistère coast light alone was responsible for catastrophe to the British steamship Egypt, according to Capt. L. E. Barziz, commanding officer of the freight steamer Seine in his report to the ministry of merchant marine.

The Seine rammed the Egypt Saturday night and nearly 100 persons lost their lives in the disaster. Among them were two Americans, Mrs. M. L. Sibley and Miss V. M. Boyer, missionaries on their way to India.

"The fog was so thick," says the report, "that the captain on the bridge was unable to see the bow of his ship. On Saturday at 4:20 p. m., the fog became so thick I gave orders to slow down to 50 revolutions a minute, thus maintaining an average speed of 6 knots. When at 7 o'clock I heard a fog-horn quite close and immediately a huge bulk appeared at right angles crossing our bow. I gave orders to reverse the engine. But too late—a terrible crash occurred, my ship striking the other amidships."

The fog whistle was sounded and I finally succeeded in catching sight of a great liner, which was listing badly to starboard. At 7:40, the ship, which later was identified as the Egypt, went down by the stern.

"I ordered all the boats lowered and scoured the sea for hours picking up several dead and also many in whom life was not extinct. I have up about 11:50 and returned to Brest."

The disaster occurred a few miles from Green Rocks, where the Drummond Castle was wrecked in June, 1896 with a loss of 247 lives. A heavy fog still hangs over the shores of Finistère, making the work of the searching parties difficult.

When the vessels came together those aboard the Egypt did not realize at first the extent of the damage caused by the little freighter, Seine. It was some minutes before the liner began to heel over, and then the passengers dashed in great alarm from the dining room to the deck. Captain Collier urged them to be calm and ordered out the boats, for which there was a rush. The Lascars, it is asserted, used clubs in an attempt to get possession of the boats, but the officers drew their revolvers and drove them away.

RETURNING TO POST
TOLEDO, Ohio, May 22.—Mrs. Minnie L. Sibley, reported missing after the British steamer Egypt went down Saturday night off the coast of France, near the French coast, was a Congregationalist missionary returning to her post at Bombay, India, after a year's furlough spent in Toledo.

Mrs. Sibley was a widow and made her home in Toledo with a sister, Mrs. Evelyn C. Woodruff. She left here April 4th and sailed May 4th from Boston.

RUSHED FOR BOATS
LONDON, May 22.—"If it had not been for the Lascars and natives rushing for the boats all the women would have been saved." This declaration is made in a signed statement given to a correspondent of the Evening News at Brest by Joseph Duff, a Scotchman who was a passenger on the Egypt.

The correspondent declares that there is ample confirmation of a panic, although both passengers and officers of the ship are extremely reticent about today as if in a daze. All he would say of the tragedy was: "I am

State Pageant Is Marked By Two Serious Mishaps

RICHMOND, Va., May 22.—A sudden heavy and prolonged rainstorm prevented the initial presentation in this city tonight of the pageant drama depicting the history of Virginia from the establishment in May 1607, of the first English settlement in America at Jamestown. A large audience was in the huge open air amphitheatre and the performers were assembling for the prologue when the downpour suddenly descended in torrent and drove every one to cover.

The first day of the pageant was marked by two more or less serious mishaps, in which the governor of Virginia figured as the principal actor. The first came about noon today, just after the coronation exercises in which was crowned the queen of the pageant.

The queen and her assemblage had just been helped into their carriage and the first twenty guns had just belched forth a royal salute, when a spirited charger on which the governor was astride, became terrified at the booming of the cannons and bolted. Although the executive succeeded in maintaining a seat, the animal charged out Grace street on which the procession was proceeding a distance of some blocks, before it was brought to a halt, but not before he charged into a section of the parade composed of a band, severely injuring one player and injuring to a lesser degree other members of the band. Governor Trinkle was unhurt.

While on his way to the executive mansion tonight from the pageant grounds, the governor's automobile in which was seated, besides himself, Mrs. Trinkle, his wife and others of the governor's party, ran afoul of the tangled ruins of a huge canvass strecher, stretched across Broad street, which was brought down by the storm, together with a woman wire cable on which it was suspended. The governor's chauffeur, alighted from the car, stepped into a pool of electrically charged water and was thrown to the ground, stunned. The governor and members of his party escaped unhurt, although they were forced to abandon the car.

The pageant management tonight sent out a frantic call for a small army of laborers to repair the damage wrought by tonight's storm to the stage, scenery and seating arrangements at the grounds. Unless sufficient help is obtained to remove the debris and otherwise restore order out of the resultant chaos, the management tonight was fearful that the decks will not be cleared in time to put on the drama tonight.

REQUEST IS DENIED
WASHINGTON, May 22.—(By The Associated Press)—Bolivia's request for a seat in the treaty of Ancon conference here was denied consideration today by the Chilean and Peruvian delegates.

Without wasting words the Chilean delegation notified the Bolivian legation in a brief memorandum that it did not even feel disposed to forward the Bolivian note to its government at Santiago.

DRINKING DIMINISHED
BOSTON, May 22.—Drinking among college students has diminished materially since the 12th amendment of colleges that were canvassed drinking has practically disappeared, according to President F. O. Southworth, of the Meadville Theological Seminary. His report of an investigation was made today to the National Temperance society.

Lady Nancy Astor Pleads That U. S. Assist Europe

NEW YORK, May 22.—Lady Nancy Astor in a farewell speech before returning to her job in the House of Commons from a visit of six weeks in her native land pleaded tonight for America to be the good Samaritan to suffering Europe and not stand by unconcerned. She repeated her appeal for the United States to enter either the League of Nations or "a league" with similar aims for peace.

Nearly 2,000 men and women heard her address, delivered at a dinner given in her honor by the league for political education. Lady Astor made a short talk after she had finished. Speeches were delivered by John W. Davis, former Ambassador to the court of St. James and Miss Alice Robertson, congresswoman from Oklahoma.

Selecting "Political Education" as her topic, Lady Astor said that while America constantly had suffered from politicians or political crooks, "we have managed that no party has ever dared nominate or bring forward any man but an honest man as president."

"They haven't all been Sir Galahads, or George Washingtons or Abraham Lincolns," she added, "but they have all been like Caesar's wife—above suspicion. That we may recall with pride."

Then she remarked that people were so apt to feel indifferent about local politics, that too long as the taxes don't go too high and the local bosses do not get too rich we shrug our shoulders and go on.

"If we are content only to have our presidents fine and to have less fine local politicians, we are making it awfully hard for a president to do fine things," she said.

Lady Astor said she was not so sure that Europe needs America's money, but she was convinced that Europe needs America's moral help. "I'm not concerned to say whether the United States should join the League of Nations, as it exists; this is a question of comparative detail; but I am convinced that America can help Europe enormously in ways which will commend themselves to all clear and kind thinking Americans if they want to do so. I believe they do. They need not fear to enter a league of peace but had better fear not entering if they desire peace."

Lady Nancy Astor slipped out of the dignified role of a stateswoman and feminist leader tonight, and was just plain mother for a few minutes. A few minutes before she was due to address a throng of admirers at her farewell dinner, she was handed a cablegram. It read:

"Lady Bug, Lady Bug, fly away home. Your house is on fire. 'An' your children all gone. Skinned 'Bobby, Billy, Wessie, David, Michael, Jackie.' These," she explained, "are my children. Evidently I shall have as warm a welcome at home as I have had here."

Pershing Speaks At Mecklenburg Independence Day

CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 22.—General John D. Pershing, who addressed a vast audience here today as the principal speaker in the celebration of the 14th anniversary of the signing of the Mecklenburg declaration of independence, reiterated a warning against allowing this country ever again to find itself in the condition of unpreparedness and consequent embarrassment in which he said it found itself in 1917.

Fortunately, on that occasion, he said, "we had the allies to hold the lines until we got ready, but the next time we might not have any allies."

General Pershing pleaded for support of the war departments plan for organization of the national guard and the reserves as the nucleus of a powerful force that could be quickly mobilized and trained in the event of necessity, without the "confusion of 1917."

To the program outlined by General Pershing, the support of the American Legion, with its "million members," had been pledged a few minutes earlier by its national commander, Harford MacNider, who delivered a brief address preceding the general. Colonel MacNider declared that "the American Legion has no other purpose than to serve the nation in peace as in war, to see that America remains American, and that those who ever the war is not yet over, those maimed and blinded and diseased as a result of the war, shall be given a square deal."

General Pershing emphatically denied that the program of preparedness which he outlined is militaristic. He asserted that "every man wearing the uniform today is just as democratic in his mind as the people from whom he springs."

We wish to thank our many friends for their kind patronage, most beautiful designs of flowers and the use of their cars rendered us most comfortable and pleasant. Mrs. C. D. Clements. (Signed) F. C. Clements. FAMILY

FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT IS TO
"LANDIS" BUILDING INDUSTRY

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
takes office next fall as chairman of the American Construction Council, a job paralleling that of Judge Landis in baseball and Will Hays in movies.

In his first authorized statement, Roosevelt, the "big builder," says through NCA Service that in co-ordinating the industry in the future, it will work to abolish unemployment in building industries.

Lowering the cost of construction of homes.

Roosevelt's program will be to get it done in a year. It is to be done by the industry itself.

Problems the council will attempt to solve include two of primary importance to the public—ending unemployment and lowering the cost of building construction.

No effort has been made to coordinate the various branches of the building industry, although it is the second largest industry in the United States, with an employment of 2,000, 000 men and a delayed program of new construction estimated at $15,- 000,000,000.

There has been no system in building construction, no co-operation between contractors, material manufacturers and labor.

It is the aim now to bring all the forces of building construction together. What this means to the public may be summarized as follows:

Reports from members of the American Construction Council show that the building industry is so far revealed that almost a shortage of skilled labor exists in certain localities.

And it is predicted that before fall there will be a general shortage of common labor.

It is felt that great danger lies in efforts suddenly to resume all the great building projects that have been held up.

To avoid this danger it is planned to lay out a national program of construction work in the four great divisions—highway, railroad, municipal and private building.

This labor will be steadily instead of an overwhelming rush of work at one moment and stagnation the next—a feast for labor followed by a famine—an adjustment of the

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT

program can provide continuous labor for everyone.

Clearing House
By teamwork among all construction interests a clearing house will be established to collect information on projected building. Obstacles to lowering the cost of construction will disappear.

Labor will be better off, with steady wages a year round. The material manufacturer will be able to operate his plant on an even load. The contractor will not be held up for lack of material.

In this manner the entire industry can be put on the same economical basis on which other industries are run.

More than 250 national associations have joined in creating the American Construction Council. There are ten groups—architects; engineers, general contractors, sub-contractors, construction labor, material and equipment manufacturers; material and equipment dealers, financial, bond, insurance and real estate organizations, public utility, construction departments; and representatives of federal, state, county and municipal bureaus of departments concerned with construction.

The council will operate through an executive committee of two representatives from each group. Each association will elect delegates to the council and all groups will have equal voting power.

All meetings will be open to the public. Adjustments and differences will be carried on in the open.
